

Ken Stiles

CEO, Stiles

Fort Lauderdale

Stiles leads the 70-year-old real estate development firm and its about 350 employees across the Southeast. He sits on several local nonprofit boards, including the Museum of Discovery and Science, Broward Center for the Performing Arts and National Association of Industrial and Office Properties.

Birthplace: Fort Lauderdale

Education: Elon University

First car: Ford Explorer Sport

My zone is: On a boat fishing

Greatest professional influence: My father

My top priority in life: My two boys, Hudson and Easton

Last book I read: "Florida Made" by George LeMieux and Laura Mize

Bucket list: Three weeks fishing the Great Barrier Reef for black marlin

Last costume I wore: Green Power Ranger (my boys gave me no choice)

Lesson from the pandemic: Be agile to the daily challenges and appreciate the small wins.

www.stiles.com, kenneth.stiles@stiles.com, 954-627-9137

JOCK FISTICK / SOUTH FLORIDA BUSINESS JOURNAL

Timothy O. Moore
President, Stiles Construction
Fort Lauderdale

In his current post since 1994, Moore is directly responsible for Stiles Construction and its associated operations throughout Florida. The Miami native has been married for 38 years.

Birthplace: Miami

Education: Bachelor's degree, construction management, University of Florida

First car: Used 1965 Ford Falcon

Childhood crush: Barbara Eden

My zone is: Early morning quiet time with a strong cup of black coffee

Greatest professional influence: Terry Stiles

I miss from my childhood: Being essentially carefree and playing outside in Hialeah all day with friends until dark

Bucket list: Traveling Europe in autumn without constraint with my wife

Favorite sports team: Florida Gators

Lesson from the pandemic: Never take the company of friends and family for granted.

www.stiles.com, tim.moore@stiles.com, 954-627-9150

STILES

